

British Cryogenics
Council

BCC Introductory Cryogenics Course 2024

2 day
course

Thurs 17 – Fri 18 October 2024
Cosener's House, Abingdon, Oxon

Lectures will cover the following topics over the course of two days:

- History & Overview of cryogenics
- Properties of matter at low temperatures
- Heat Transfer
- Cryostat Design
- User Safety
- Design Safety
- Mechanical Cryocoolers

Target audience:

The course is an introduction for those new to low temperature systems, starting from a basic level and building up over two days. The course is aimed primarily at graduate engineers, new postgraduate students, and technicians.

Key

Registration NOW OPEN

For more details see
<https://bcryo.org.uk>

For any enquiries, please contact andrew.may@stfc.ac.uk

